EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Financial Affairs at the East.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—It is generally understood now that Fisk & Hatch's suspension was largely due to advances to Huntington, on Central Pacific Railroad land grant bonds, for which there is no market here or abroad.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Mr. Camp, President of the Clearing House Association, stated to-day that financial matters were becoming brighter. Banks are gaining rapidly in greenbacks and confidence is being restored. Banks, he says, have paid and are paying more currency than ever before. All demands for legitimate business purposes are being supplied. Loan certificates outstanding amount to about $20,000,000. They are being canceled as rapidly as the general welfare will admit of. The banks as yet have taken no action relative to a full resumption.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—The Clearing House Association agree to retire loan certificates at the rate of 20 per cent. per week, which will take five weeks to retire the entire issue.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—The Clearing House Association to-day resolved that their banks should resume full currency payments on Monday.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—A Washington dispatch says: General discussion of the question of the resumption of specie payments, accompanied as it is by a steady drain on the premium on gold, has attracted its due share of attention in official quarters. The Secretary of the Treasury has expressed opinion that while a return to a coin basis as a result of the late financial panic would be quite unexpected, it was by no means impossible nor improbable. It is admitted that twice before the premium on gold has been down to eight per cent., but not under circumstances, it is maintained, quite so favorable for resumption. The President has become interested in the question and in a conversation to-day informed several gentlemen who discussed it with him, that he should earnestly commend the subject to Congress in his annual message. The President, in connection with the Secretary of the Treasury and Comptroller of Currency, will also recommend to Congress legislation looking to stringent restrictions on National Banks by which the legal tender reserve can be preserved intact. The President is giving the subject of national finances his closest attention and evidently means to make it a great issue in the immediate future of his administration.

Silver at a Discount.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—The effect of the general stringency of the currency market has placed silver at a discount when sold for currency. The exact cause of this decline is not easily comprehended. Before the panic silver rated at a premium of 5½ per cent., but the crash has had such a perceptible effect upon it, that [illegible] the days of the [illegible] individuals offered it [illegible] in large quantities, for par, and, in some instances, at a fraction discount for currency.

A [illegible] Defaulter.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—George A. Clarke, son of the [illegible] and [illegible] of the Union Pacific railroad, [illegible] with $6,000, the [illegible] of tickets sold last month. He has heretofore been of a [illegible] character. It is supposed that he has been speculating in stocks.

Scott [illegible] in Placing Texas and Pacific Bonds.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—To-day's Tribune says a private cable dispatch was received yesterday announcing that Tom Scott succeeded abroad in negotiating fifty-four millions first mortgage bonds of the Texas and Pacific railroad. Troops will be at once posted along the Texas frontier bordering on the reservation. WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—Ex-Senator Pomeroy, of Kansas, was shot this afternoon by ex-Representative M. F. Conway, of Kansas. Senator Pomeroy was walking up New York avenue, and when near the corner of Fourteenth street he met Conway, who drew a large revolver when within five or six feet of Pomeroy, and fired three shots at him, one of which took effect in the right breast just below the nipple. Conway then put up his pistol and started to walk off. P. Stillitzon and Addison, who witnessed the shooting, immediately stopped Conway, Addison exclaiming "Stop, sir! You have shot a man, and you must give your reasons for so doing." Conway replied: "He ruined myself and family." He then accompanied the gentlemen to the station house. Pomeroy, who had fallen to the pavement, was assisted to a carriage and driven to his house in K street, near Fourteenth, where physicians were immediately summoned.

Drs. Bliss and Verdi have just made an examination of Pomeroy's wound and pronounce it only slight. There will be more building in Astoria during the next year than has been done in the last five years. As a consequence mechanics and laborers will be in demand.

There is a point on the Cascade range, a little east of Mount McGlothlin and northeast of Jacksonville, where, on a clear day, any person can see, at one glance, thirteen lakes in the Klamath Basin and vicinity. Would not that be a good place for some artist to steer for next summer.

Last Friday a fine looking horse driven to a hack between Salem and the Fair Ground, was suddenly affected with what seemed cramp or paralysis of the hind legs, and when a little beyond the postoffice on Court street, he fell, being no longer able to sustain himself. Mr. Durbin has had two horses affected exactly in the same way, neither of which recovered. The disease, whatever it is, baffles the wisdom of the horse wiseacres.

OREGON STATE FAIR.

Thirteenth Annual Fair of the Oregon State Agricultural Society.

Sixth Day.

SALEM, October 11, 1873.

The dry and sunny atmosphere of yesterday that led many to anticipate a continuance of good weather for some days, were much disappointed. The morning opened cloudy and heavy; soon after, a light rain commenced falling and continued increasing. The conclusion was soon reached that a most uncomfortable day was to be experienced. The rain continued until night with partial intermissions. The roads were, as a matter of course, in a horrible condition with mud, and the Fair grounds were very uncomfortable.

Although the Managers had decided to continue the Fair till next Wednesday, the farmers practically concluded to close it to-day. Packing, raising tents, harnessing the teams and all kinds of necessary preparation were being made for marching homeward. It was a matter of astonishment and admiration to many, how intelligent farmers and their respectable families persevered and endured the entire week, the discomforts of camp life in such weather. It proves the deep interest they took in the Fair and their confidence in the admirable manner in which it is managed. The efforts of Mr. M. Wilkins, the President, Mr. E. M. Waite, the Secretary, and Mr. J. H. Moores, the Treasurer, and the other officers generally, could not be easily surpassed for just and equitable ruling and courteous and obliging manners to all with whom they came in contact.

At a late hour yesterday evening the judges concluded their awards for sheep.

IN COTSWOLDS.

For the best two-year old buck Mr. R. C. Kinney, of Salem, took the first prize; the second premium was awarded to Mr. Rudd, of Albany.

For the best year-old buck Mr. Thomas Cross, of Salem, got the blue ribbon; the red ribbon was taken by Messrs. B. E. Stewart & Sons, of North Yamhill.

For the best ewe and lamb, Mr. Thomas Cross carried off the first prize, and B. E. Stewart & Son the second.

For the best three lambs, Mr. S. G. Reed, of Portland, took the blue ribbon; B. E. Stewart & Sons got the red ribbon.

LEICESTER SHEEP.

For the best two-year old buck, Col. Saxe won the first prize, and Mr. Cross the second.

For the best year-old buck, the best ewe and lamb and the best three lambs, Mr. Jas. Cameron, of Salem, and Klamath Lake, took the first prize in each of these three exhibitions.

SOUTHDOWNS.

Mr. Thomas Cross was the only competitor; he exhibited four pens of one and two year old bucks, ewes and lambs. These were first class animals in all respects and much admired by visitors. He got four or five blue ribbons for these.

GRADED SHEEP FOR WOOL AND MUTTON.

For the best year-old buck, Mr. Minto was awarded the blue ribbon.

For the best ewe and lamb, Mr. Minto took the first prize, and Mr. John P. Cole, of Salem, got the second prize.

For the best three lambs, Mr. Chas. Miller, of Jefferson, got the blue ribbon and Mr. Minto the red ribbon.

FAT SHEEP.

For the best pair of fat weathers, Mr. Minto took the first prize and Mr. J. P. Cole, the second.

For the best pair of fat ewes, B. E. Stewart & Sons got the blue ribbon and Mr. Cross the red.

For the best fat lambs, B. E. Stewart & Sons got the blue ribbon again and Mr. Cole the red.

For the best buck for wool and mutton, of any breed, Mr. Rudd, of Albany, secured the first prize and Mr. Cross the second.

GOLD MEDAL.

Mr. Thomas Cross, of Salem, won the gold medal for the greatest number of first-class prizes for sheep.

SILVER MEDAL.

Mr. John Minto, of Salem, took the silver medal for the second largest number of first-class prize sheep.

The exhibition of thoroughbred sheep at this Fair for number, breed and condition was never equalled in this State. The demand for improved sheep was never so great in Oregon as at the present time, and they are now in considerable numbers in all parts of the country. Farmers are steadily advancing in the practical knowledge of the value of good stock.

SALES.

Mr. Cross, Mr. Minto, Mr. Reed, Col. Saxe and Mr. Munsen made considerable sales at the Fair of thoroughbred and graded sheep at good prices.

WOOL.

Mr. T. L. Davidson, of Salem, had a sample case of wool from his flock of Spanish Merinos, in which breed of sheep he so much excels.

The great events of the day and the attraction that brought so many people to the Fair grounds this morning notwithstanding the damp and uncomfortable weather, was the knowledge that

TWO GREAT RUNNING RACES

Would take place. At 11 o'clock, when the horses were ordered out, the rain was falling fast, yet the number of people present was surprising, including many influential persons and quite a number of ladies. The track was in a horrible condition, and the running could not, in the circumstances, be considered a true test of the speed of the horses.

The first race was mile heats, 2 in 3. The first prize was $200 for the winning horse, and $100 for the second horse. Four horses started: Butralph, a three year old bay colt, sired by Dr. Lindsley, and owned by Mr. Basket, got the inside track. Norwich, a four year old brown colt, owned by Mr. Scoggins, got the second place; Medock, an aged bay stud horse, owned by W. W. Day, got the third place; Bill Gird, a four year old black gelding, owned by Mr. Gird, had to take the outside track. A good start was effected at once. As this was a race for blood, it was taken for granted that each horse would be made to do his best. Betting was general, and the amounts considerable. The excitement was great. Butralph, who was the favorite horse and had the advantage of the inside track, rushed ahead and kept so all the way. He was closely followed by Norwich, who came in second. Bill Gird had the disadvantage of the outside track in the start, and made a partial stumble at the half-mile turn that caused him to lose ground. He came in third. Medock made good running in the early part of the heat, but lost ground in the home stretch, and came only in time to save his distance. As Butralph passed the judges' stand the winner of the heat by some lengths, the excitement and cheering were more than ordinary. Betting now ran high in his favor. But the race is not always to the swift. The time made was 2:07. Horses and riders were covered with mud.

After the usual time for rest, the horses were called to the stand and an excellent start was made at the first offer. Butralph got the first place and was still the favorite. Norwich took the second, Bill Gird the third and Medock had to take the outside track this time. The filly Butralph rushed ahead, but the horse Bill Gird soon overhauled her. The two kept almost side by side the greater part of the heat, but as the round turn for the home stretch was reached Butralph made a partial stumble, that gave Bill Gird the advantage. Both riders and horses made a grand effort to make the judges stand first; whips and spurs were freely used, but Bill Gird got the heat by about half a length, making the time in 2:12½. Norwich and Medock were both distanced. This fact alone shows the horrible state the track is in, for Norwich is quite a fast horse and a favorite on the turf and in the pools.

The contest was now confined to the bay filly Butralph and the black horse Bill Gird, each had won a heat, and the coming one would decide the race, which is the best 2 in 3.

In the third heat, Bill Gird got the inside place. The start was all that could be desired for promptness and fairness. The black horse got ahead almost from the start and kept it all the way. The filly ran well and made great efforts to get to the front, but all in vain, although Bill Gird only passed the judges' stand first by less than half a length. The time made in this heat was 2:22½. Bill Gird was declared the winner of the heat and the race. The owner was evidently well pleased with his horse and rider.

THE SECOND RACE.

At 2 P. M. the horses were ordered saddled. In a few minutes the sorrel colt Wm. Bingham, owned by J. F. Bybee, the bay colt Tom. Merry, owned by J. W. Pinnell of Seattle, and the brown filly, Lodica, owned by G. J. Baskett, made their appearance at the stand and took their respective places as here given. The race was mile heats, best three in five, and the prizes were $350 for the winner and $150 for the second. [illegible] favorite filly. It was rather [illegible] to get a start as the bay colt, Tom. Merry, showed much temper. When the start was accomplished Lodica soon got ahead and kept the same position all the way. The horses kept well together until the home stretch was reached, when the grand struggle was made for the winning post, which was [illegible] by Lodica first by a full length. The sorrel colt, Wm. Bingham, second and Tom. Merry third. The time made was 2:04. This heat was witnessed with great interest, and although the excitement was great the order was excellent. The pleasure was enhanced by the fact that no rain fell during this race; but that did not prevent the horses and riders being covered with mud.

When the usual time allotted for rest had expired the horses were called up for the second heat. Lodica kept the first place, Wm. Bingham had to take the second and Tom. Merry the outside. Tom. Merry showed temper and more difficult to get started each heat; but patience and kindness ultimately succeeded and a good start was secured. Tom. Merry, formerly in the rear, rapidly advanced to the front and kept the lead during the heat and passed the judges stand six lengths ahead; the brown filly, Lodica, that made such fine running in the first heat, came in second and the sorrel colt, Wm. Bingham, that showed so much pluck in the former heat, came in last. Tom. Merry evidently had the muscle for a track in a bed of mud. The time made was 2:10½.

In the third heat the sorrel colt, although having to take the outside track after a troublesome but fair start, shot ahead of all competitors and kept in the front for the first half mile, but Tom Merry soon overhauled him and passed her. On the home stretch there was a great struggle made by riders and horses for the front, but Tom Merry made good his position and, passed the Judges' stand first and winning the heat by a full length. Wm. Bingham came in second and Lodica, the winner of the first heat, passed the stand last. The time made was 2:00.

All necessary preparations were made with the horses for the fourth heat, which was expected to be the testing one. At the proper time the horses were [illegible] and saddled, and the riders in their places. Tom Merry was more than usually unwilling to start, so much so that some minutes were occupied in getting him in temper to run. A first rate start was finally secured. The sorrel colt got well ahead at the start, but Tom Merry had made up his mind not to be beat. He soon came up with Wm. Bingham, [illegible] him and kept well ahead to the close. All the horses and riders did their best on the home stretch, but Tom Merry passed the Judges' stand some [illegible] ahead, winning the heat and the race, and pocketing $350, the first prize. The time made was 2:08½. Although the track was in such a horrible condition for thoroughbred horses, yet not an accident occurred to horses or riders; but all got as much mud and dirt as they wanted.

THE PAVILION.

The morning broke with cold, gray clouds hurrying up from the south, bearing their burdens of heavy mist, and driving such as had courageously braved the chilling air and miry walks into the Pavilion. There, huddling in groups about the musical instruments and flower stands, they watched the slow process of denuding the Pavilion, which began early in the morning. Exhibitors were hurrying hither and thither in anxious haste to strip the shelves and racks of their ornaments. In the department of Home Work the rich colorings which throughout the dreary week had lent an air of warmth to the bleak rooms, had almost entirely disappe[illegible] [illegible] cial success [illegible] all question [illegible] that this hop[illegible] fore, the Treas[illegible] Moores, was inst[illegible] of the premium [illegible] able necessity. The [illegible] to and fro in the Pavilion, and the rapid removal of articles that had been awarded premiums, entirely precluded all hope of success in obtaining the names of successful competitors in the remaining class premiums and we will have to refer to the books for the required information. From these it appears that the following premiums were awarded:

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 13, 1873.

THE DUTY OF THE HOUR.

At last the day has arrived in which the Republican party in Oregon is brought face to face with the gravest issue that has ever entered into our State politics. We do not except the first troublous days of disunion and war, when the question of an undivided republic rose high above all partisan differences, struck the gyves of party from a nation, and challenged the patriotism of every true-hearted American. We do not overrate the gravity of the situation. It cannot be overstated. Fairly and squarely it confronts every man: shall the Republican party in Oregon lend its highest sanction to the scandalous and unauthorized act of the Albany Convention? That Convention was composed of elements that would have no place in the councils of genuine Republicanism. By a single stroke of Senator Mitchell's pen, it placed the party where it never could have gone consciously and advisedly. In an unguarded moment it suffered itself to pass beyond the dead-line, and its death became a certain thing, unless it should retrace its fatal step. Seeing the peril into which the party had been led by the [illegible] schemes of bad men, the OREGONIAN first sprang to the front, sounding the note of warning. It has maintained the right of the people to govern against the dictation of rings and cliques. For this it has been denounced as a traitor and enemy to the party. It has fearlessly condemned the arbitrary and unjust interference of Federal officers in State and local politics. For this it has been anathematized by a subsidized press. It has sought to inspire the mind of the people of Oregon with a desire for a return to the simple methods and untrammeled freedom of pure Republicanism. For this it has been vilified and abused to the last degree, by men whose political records are as unclean as their private character. Meanwhile the great brain of the people has not been [illegible].

The OREGONIAN is content to rest its case with the Republicans of Oregon to-day. It is not unwilling to place its devotion to the principles of the Republican party side by side with that of Senator Mitchell, and appeal to the voters of Oregon for a sober verdict. They will remember that when with gibe and sneer the people of Oregon were taunted with having for a Senator a man whose history, in public and private life, had been a continued series of the darkest and most infamous social crimes, when from East and West, from North and South, the mails were burdened with contemptuous jeers at our disgrace, then the OREGONIAN spoke briefly out in condemnation of the [illegible] whose infamous career had blurred and stained the once spotless reputation of Oregon. It has been sustained by the whole people in its manly, upright course. There came a time when by an act of [illegible] to the people he had so foully wronged, Senator Mitchell could have [illegible] reputation for a life of un[illegible] iniquity and crime. Nay, it might have risen to all the dignity of self-abnegation and self sacrifice. What did he do? He abused the trust which had [illegible] in him by perverting his official power over the Federal officers in the State, by packing a Convention and securing an endorsement, not of his [illegible] character; but of his life as a citizen through all the years of his residence in this State, when by his own confession he had been guilty of the grossest crimes [illegible] the civil and the moral law. And it was not for himself alone that this endorsement should have been made. The [illegible] love of a father was pleading [illegible]-tongued, pleading with him [illegible] terrible disgrace which [illegible] life may have been, the OREGONIAN never asked the party or its representatives to sit in judgment on that life, until by his own imprudent act he forced the issue on the people. It has produced discord and contention, but the virtuous, upright citizen who condemns it, can not be held responsible for its introduction.

Here we rest the matter. We have that strong faith in the honesty and integrity of the Republicans of Oregon which leads us to believe that they will act wisely, prudently and conscientiously. Now, if ever, the Republican party in Oregon must free itself from the corrupt influences which have prevailed so long. The OREGONIAN has been forced by popular sentiment into the position it has taken. At the supreme will of the people it became the leader in a new march of progress. To-day it calls upon the people to vindicate the patriotism which has thus far sustained and encouraged it.

Hiram Smith is to be defeated. And in that defeat, the Republican party is to be purified and strengthened for new conflicts and nobler conquests. And when the conflict has ended, men will look back upon the dangerous straits through which we are called to pass to-day, and thank God devoutly that the OREGONIAN, almost single-handed and alone, grappled with the most dangerous foe of Republicanism, struggled long and valiantly and slew it in its last stronghold.

ABOUT NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE.

The OREGONIAN does not wish to assume the airs of a braggadocio, when by a stroke of journalistic enterprise, it distances the bigamous railway organ down the street, but it desires justice to be done in all cases. When we mentioned the fact that the Bulletin had stolen the special report of the Modoc execution which had been telegraphed from Jacksonville by our special correspondent at Fort Klamath, that brazen sheet audaciously charged that we had copied the dispatch from the Jacksonville Sentinel, saying:

> The OREGONIAN is making the most extraordinary strides in a species of journalism peculiar to itself that we ever heard of. Last Monday it boasted of a special dispatch to itself about the execution of the Modocs, and cackled noisily about its having been the first of the newspapers of Oregon to publish it, when all the while its boasted special was made up from another reporter's account, and its cackle was premature and false, because the Jacksonville Sentinel had published substantially the same thing one day earlier than the OREGONIAN received it.

We did not reply to this (as we might have done) by saying that our extra was published on Sunday, while the Sentinel did not reach this city until Monday night. We preferred to wait for the answer which was sure to come from our valued exchange, the Sentinel. And here it is, from the Sentinel of the 11th instant:

> The Portland Bulletin intimates that the OREGONIAN had no special reporter at the Modoc execution, because the Sentinel published "substantially the same" report on Saturday. We rise to explain. There was a special reporter for the Oregonian within fifty feet of the scaffold when the drop fell. Supposing that report would reach Portland long before our paper would appear, the messenger who brought it here was instructed to let us see it. Hence the similarity of the accounts. But the extreme length of the San Francisco and Eastern dispatches which had the preference of the line, prevented any communication northward until Saturday; and then the line broke midway in the transmission of the message. It was only completed on Sunday morning by forming a connection with the railroad line at Roseburg. It was also the intention of that special reporter who resides here, to have written a full account of the affair and trip to the OREGONIAN, but sickness and other urgent business compulsorily delayed him until such time as the whole thing had grown stale from publication in all the principal papers of the coast, and so that was abandoned. And that is all there is of it. If deemed proper, it may be said we stole our account.

One would think that even the Bulletin would blush at being detected in such flagrant falsehood. Probably we shall hear next that the Sentinel has lied about the matter.

THEIR DESPERATION.

The defeat of the resolution endorsing the heinous crimes of John Hipple is now conceded by the ring. Within the last few days the ringleaders have admitted that the Albany conspiracy will be defeated by 1,000 majority. Now they have shown their colors: they say they can't elect Hiram Smith, and they "don't care a d—n if he is defeated." All they want is to carry Multnomah county, in order that their bigamous head-center can say at Washington, that although the great majority of Republicans in Oregon repudiated his infamous conduct, yet here in Multnomah county, "where he has longest lived and is best known," they gave him a rousing majority. How is this majority to be obtained? By bribing the purchasable class which abounds in Portland just at this season of the year. It is a bad cause that relies for support upon [illegible] money. Into such desperate [illegible] rascally [illegible] $7,000 [illegible] Multnomah [illegible] is to be [illegible] while, in other parts of the State [illegible] Smith can go to the dogs.

LOOK OUT FOR REPEATERS!

JUDGES OF ELECTION MUST BE ON THEIR WATCH FOR REPEATERS.

The Ring combinations have for some time past been busy preparing a gigantic scheme for repeating. They only hope to carry this State by carrying Multnomah county by a large majority. They have a large corruption fund and will not be at all scrupulous in the use of it for the basest of crimes—subverting the "will of the people." Keep a close watch upon those coming to the polls to vote. See to it that no one votes at your respective polls more than once.

THE CORRUPTION FUND.

It is a common rumor on the streets that the Custom House ring has raised a large fund for the purpose of carrying Multnomah county by importing and purchasing votes. Repeating is to be the order of the day. The scum of the city is enlisted in the service. All the scoundrels and ruffians of this community have been subsidized. They are to work and vote for the resolution of endorsement. Multnomah county is to be carried by bribery and fraud. This is the programme of Senator Mitchell's horde of retainers.

By a recent order emanating from the Civil Service Commission, all candidates for admission to the Civil Service are informed that the several States and Territories are grouped into five divisions to be designated as Civil Service Districts. The Fourth District embraces the States of Illinois, Missouri, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Nevada, California and Oregon, and also all the Territories except New Mexico and the District of Columbia. The examinations therein are to be held at St. Louis.

VANCOUVER ITEMS.

Immense quantities of wheat are passing down the Columbia every day.

Wm. Stevens, Esq., is laying the foundation of another building on Main street.

Armstrong is selling brick for $8 per thousand at the kiln—cheaper building material than fir lumber.

Dupuis' new building is nearly completed. The front room of the lower story is to be used as a harness shop.

PROCEEDINGS OF TO-DAY.

Having to leave town early this morning, I was unable to be present at the Capitol during to-day's sitting, but through the kindness of the Clerks, to whom many thanks are due by the Press for favors shown, I am enabled to present a report of the business done to-day. In the Council, Miss Mary Brandt, of Vancouver, W. T., was sworn in as Enrolling Clerk, and bill No. 3 introduced, in relation to fixing the time of holding the Supreme and District Courts.

IN THE HOUSE

The following new bills were introduced:

H. B. No. 8—An act to incorporate the City of Port Townsend.

H. B. No. 9—Act in relation to hogs trespassing in certain Counties.

H. B. No. 10—Act relative to the growing of forest trees.

H. B. No. 11—Act relating to public safety on railroads.

H. B. No. 12—Act relative to the spread of contagious diseases among domestic animals.

After some other business had been transacted, an adjournment took place till 10 A. M. to-morrow.

OREGON CITY LETTER.

OREGON CITY, Oct. 11, 1873.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The recent rain has had a dampening effect here as well as at the Fair; yet the farmers do not growl, and if they do not, the rest of mankind should keep "mum." The lovers of arts and pleasure, who dwell among us, have been sadly disappointed in their Fair-going this week, and the clouds are not willing, apparently, to promise to hold up any better for Monday and Tuesday.

The most interesting affair of the week—to the parties engaged—was a muscular demonstration in the shape of a "melee" at Diller's ferry on the Linn City shore. The result of a legal investigation is about as follows: A Mr. Shannon and wife were crossing the river with a team in a flat boat which did not belong to the ferry. A Mr. Watenpaugh was running Diller's ferry at the time. Mr. Shannon attempted to land at Diller's landing, to which Mr. Watenpaugh seriously objected. However, after some effort and many words, Mr. S. succeeded in effecting a landing, drove his team up the bank some distance, and returned to take the boat to where it was before he obtained it. Mr. W. and he had some words, which finally brought them to blows. Mr. S. was knocked down once or twice, and Mr. W. succeeded in getting his head cut with a rock in the hands of Mr. S. Of course a law suit was the result. Mr. W. lodged a complaint against Mr. S. for assault and battery. Mr. S. was found guilty and fined $10 and costs. This trial was had yesterday before Justice Bailey. Mrs. Shannon, who had been a close witness of the battle, made complaint before Justice Burns against Mr. W. for assault on her, but the jury failed to sustain the charge on a hearing, so the defendant was discharged. Thus the affair stands, both parties being somewhat poorer if not wiser men. The amount of the ferriage fee which was the "bone of contention" is, we understand, two bits. "Penny wise and pound foolish."

Business continues good. Our mills and manufactories are running about their capacity.

Wheat still rates at a dollar per bushel, although the supply is not so great as it was some time ago.

The steamer Alice is being pushed forward as rapidly as possible towards completion. She promises to be a handsome boat when finished. The Dayton is lying in the dry dock for repairs.

The Grover stuck this morning with a large load in the Clackamas rapids. We see by her lights she is there yet (10 P. M.). In consequence of the passage being obstructed, the Senator was unable to make her usual daily trip to Portland and back. Enough rain to raise the river a few feet would be very advantageous to the interests of steamboating. More anon.

CITY.

PASSENGERS.—The steamer J[illegible] which sailed yesterday morning from San Francisco for this port brings the following passengers: Jacob Kamm and wife, General Michler and wife, J H McCann, G W Dunn, Mrs S B Mitchell and child, J S Michler, Louis Prage, C Green, Mrs G W Durbrow, C B Tabor, H Bloomfield, J H Schafer, Miss T Mork, Miss A McKee, Miss Fisher, Joseph Emmi, F R Hamilton and family, A D McFarland and family, W H Evert and family, B F Houston and wife, Miss H Rogers, H C H[illegible] child, J D Scharff, Mrs S F Sterling and child, A Schlussel and wife, Charles C[illegible] F Johnson, Miss M Foster, J Daly, W F Bassett, J Ganter, Miss M Shroufe, C E Smith and wife, C M Brown, C S A Dr W Shackelford, Mrs A B Cowles and three children, S Brogden and wife, Miss J Savage, A Bernheim, J K Gaither and family, J A Lemon and family, A Prescott and family, John Moir and family, Wm Sander and wife, Mrs S K Strahan and child, T S Floyd.

W R T Co's BOATS.—The Grover came down from Wheatland on Saturday morning with 125 tons of wheat and ran aground at Clackamas rapids. The Vancouver was dispatched to her and relieved her of a considerable quantity of freight, making two trips to this city, bringing the second load down yesterday afternoon. She left the Grover at the rapids taking on what wheat had been discharged on shore, and that boat came down last evening. The Shoshone and Beaver arrived yesterday afternoon with considerable lots of wheat from Independence. This looks like business and it is to be hoped there will be sufficient water from this time on to enable these boats to continue in the trade for months to come and thus afford the farmers an opportunity to get out the grain which has accumulated in large quantities on the Upper Willamette.

THE B STREET IMPROVEMENT.—A gang of Chinamen were at work yesterday wheeling earth to the extension. The rains of the past week have not done much damage to the street, but some means should be taken to prevent the sliding of the loose earth which will certainly wash away unless the proper course is taken to prevent it. Property owners though they have been under great expense in consequence of the immense work done on B street, have been benefited thereby as they are enabled to improve their blocks at much lighter expense than otherwise. Streets will be opened in the vicinity of the improvement and other benefits will be derived from the improvement of B street. As there is no connection of the main thoroughfare with the extension wagons must take the Washington street route and across the bridge for the present.

THE PROGRESS CLUB.—Secretary Blum of the Progress Club, has been busily engaged for the past week in addressing sundry invitations to numerous persons in this city and elsewhere for the forthcoming reception at the rooms of the club. Everything is being placed in order for the eventful occasion. Though the ball room floor has been polished and oiled, there will be no dancing on Thursday evening the reception night. That part of social arrangements will not take place until later in the season, when only a select number of friends of the members will be invited to participate in mazy dance. The ladies will be afforded an opportunity on Thursday evening to inspect the [illegible] of the Club for the first time, and we warrant they will be highly pleased with the beautiful surroundings.

MAJOR BELL'S STUDIO AND MUSEUM.—During his leisure hours, the worthy Commissary of Subsistence, Major Bell, takes up his brush and works away on paintings. He has finished several pictures and is now engaged on a view of the Willamette, looking down the river from the North Portland sawmill. He proposes to make this a master piece, and, judging from past efforts in that line, we are led to believe he can do all he proposes. When the painting is completed it will be raffled off. In his Museum he has many curiosities, principally picked up among the Indians. That miniature ham recently added has been labeled "Gold Medal" and, for small hams, it is entitled to the prize.

ARMY SUPPLIES.—The bids for the delivery of subsistence stores, consisting of 12 000 pounds of bacon, 1,800 pounds of sugar-cured hams, 122 410 pounds of flour, 10,000 pounds family flour, 3 000 pounds lard, to be delivered at Fort Walla Walla, will be opened as soon as returns from that post are received at the Chief Commissary's office in this city. Bids for supplying fresh beef at the above post for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1874 will also be opened when returns are all received at Major Bell's office.

SYSTEM.—We stepped aboard the steamers Emma Hayward and Annie Stewart yesterday, and found the decks swept as clean as possibly could be made with broom and water. The freights are piled up with extreme care, with a view to easy and rapid handling which is necessary on these steamers, and in other instances the work showed evidence of care and system which is required of all employed on the boats of the O S N Company.

FIRST PREMIUMS.—The Domestic Sewing Machine was awarded the first premium at the Oregon State Fair, also four first premiums on machine work. The same machine received the first diploma at the Linn County Fair, and the blue ribbon at the Washington County Fair. These machines combine the merits of all others, and are evidently the latest scientific invention of the age. W J Horne is the General Agent for Oregon.

FALSE ALARM.—With pencil and note-book in hand we hurried to the corner of Oak and First streets yesterday, shortly after noon, and found there assembled the Fire Department. Nobody seemed to know why the "boys" had gathered on this occasion in that particular locality, as there was no indication of a fire. We presume some one imagined he smelt fire and thereupon went for a bell—the result being as above stated.

WATER SPOUT.—Capt Dixon of the Spirit of the Dawn reports having seen a water spout while that vessel was lying outside the bar last week. As near as he could reckon the huge column of water was three miles away and as near to the vessel as he desired it to be. Capt Dixon has seen water spouts innumerable and this did not annoy him in the least. Vessels caught in these water spouts are torn to pieces in a jiffy.

DROWNED.—By telegraphic dispatches elsewhere we learn that a Mr Nathan Markwood, of Oregon City, was drowned while trucking freight on the steamer Gov Grover on Saturday. A man jumped in after him but failed to catch the drowning man. At last accounts the body had not been recovered. The deceased leaves a wife and five children to mourn his sudden death.

NORTH FRONT STREET.—Owing to the heavy rains of the past week the filling of this street in the vicinity of the railroad company's office has been delayed. The building occupied by Mr Schenk and the Oregon Wooden Ware Manufacturing Company is being raised to the desired height which has been made necessary by the change in the grade at that place.

PORTRAIT OF GEN CANBY.—[illegible] mammoth large painting of Gen Canby which has been on exhibition in Gray's Music Store for some time will be forwarded by express in a few days to the widow of the late Gen Canby. The portrait was purchased by subscription [illegible] from our citizens.

FUNERAL OF MISS BURKE.—A large concourse of friends of the deceased [illegible] attended the funeral of the late Miss Clarissa Burke on Saturday. Several members of the Fire Department and Metropolitan police by whom the departed was highly esteemed followed the remains to their last resting place at [illegible] Cemetery.

HAULED OUT.—The steamers M[illegible] and [illegible] have both been hauled out on the ways at the boneyard to undergo needed repairs. They will soon be ready for service.

FLAG FLYING.—Yesterday the Hawaiian Consul's flag was hoisted in honor of the arrival of the schooner Margaret Crockard from Honolulu.

BAD SMELL.—The deposit of all kinds of dirt at the western end of Washington street bridge compels passers by that locality to stop up their nasal organs as the stench is unbearable. The residents in that neighborhood on a hot day with the wind from the northwest must experience a disagreeable time of it.

A FRAIL CRAFT.—A number of small boys have again launched their boat a dry goods box and daily they paddle the frail craft through the water. Though they [illegible] turn out very far the chances of the youths for escape from drowning once they are upset will not be very flattering.

CAMPS MOVED.—In consequence of the high water in Tanner's creek causing an overflow of the low ground the Chinese camps have been moved further up the creek where there is less likelihood of their being washed out. Trenches for carrying off the water from the low ground have been dug.

NEW MUSIC.—Mr Geo J DeEvans has sent us two new pieces of music. They are entitled "Bess and I are Out," words suggested from Carleton's ballads, and "Happy as a King," by Stephen Massett. No doubt these pieces will find favor with our music loving citizens.

ARRIVED.—On Saturday the Margaret Crockard arrived from Honolulu and yesterday morning the Spirit of the Dawn came up in tow of the Merrimac. The latter is from San Francisco and after discharging will immediately load with wheat for Liverpool.

BANK OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.—The masonry work on this new bank has reached the third story. The window frames have been placed in position and as soon as the weather permits the completion of this fine building will be prosecuted with all dispatch.

INSANE PATIENT.—Sheriff McKenzie of Jackson county, arrived here last evening having in custody an insane man from that place, whose name we did not ascertain. The cause of his insanity is not known. He was taken at once to the Asylum.

STOVE DRUMS.—The steamer Emma Hayward will take up a number of drums for stoves this morning. They are marked to the Quartermaster at Walla Walla and will be quite acceptable up that way now that the winter is coming on.

HOUSED.—The rainy season having set in necessitated the removal of the light shell boats, which have been anchored in the river below Stark street from their native element to the boat house moored near the O S N Co's wharf.

RIFLE BALL.—To-morrow evening the City Rifles will give a select social party at their Armory. A special effort will be made by those having the matter in charge to make their guests entirely at home on the occasion.

DUE.—Several vessels are in the river and we may be able to report the arrival of one or more to-morrow.

PERSONAL.

Vivian and his troupe arrived from Salem last evening.

Gen Michler, Major Robert's successor, is a passenger on the John L Stephens.

H D Cock and J C Smith, well known stock-raisers of Eastern Washington, are in town, on their way home from our State Fair.

Jacob Kamm Esq who has been sojourning in California for some time with the intention of gaining strength, will arrive on the steamer.

Will Ware, for a long time brakeman on the Westside railroad, where he has made himself a friend to all connected with the road, has gone to California.

We acknowledge the pleasure of a call from Mr. R. C. Smith of the Walla Walla Union, who has been doing the State Fair, and is visiting the city after an absence of eight years.

Mr Fred Strong, son of Judge Strong returned on the Ajax. For the past fourteen months he has been attending law school at Albany, New York. He will continue his studies at the office of his father.

Among the passengers on the John L Stephens is Mr Chas E Smith, of Smith Brothers, who has been absent several months, during which time he has visited the Vienna Exposition and many cities on the Continent.

Conductor Root, for the past eighteen months connected with the O & C R R departed for the East yesterday morning overland. Those who have formed the acquaintance of this gentleman will regret that he has bid good bye to Portland. In Mr Root, we have found the true gentleman in every sense of the word. He is accompanied on his homeward journey by his estimable lady.

AMUSEMENTS.

The first of the series of the parlor entertainments to be given by Vivian and his troupe will come off on Wednesday evening. He will also perform on Friday and Saturday evenings. Thursday evening has intentionally been omitted in consequence of the grand reception which will be given on Thursday evening at the rooms of the Progress Club. This arrangement will allow persons to attend both the entertainment and reception, which would not be the case if the entertainment was not postponed. Our citizens can expect to hear very superior and attractive performances from Mr Vivian, assisted by an excellent troupe. His company consists of Madame Riefarth, leading soprano, Mr J W Jester, the inimitable ventriloquist and "Man with the talking Hand," Master McKenzie the young talented tenor profundo and H J Lask the accomplished pianist.

Prof C B Plummer had a crowded house at one of his usual clever entertainments given in Olympia on the 10th inst.

OUT DOOR SPORTS.

THE TOURNAMENT

FAIR GROUNDS Oct 10 1873

The day opened with a dense fog which cleared off about 11 o'clock and the sun came out gloriously marking, as everybody thought, the end of the storm. Base ball players were jubilant and it was generally noised about that the great College Pioneer game was to come off at 1 o'clock in the grounds back of the grand stand. The report was electrical. The Pavilion, circus, pantaloon races and everything else were deserted and everybody appeared bent on but one object—to see the game. The time set was one o'clock. But long ere the hour came on the ground the hill back of the catcher's position was crowded with people and the assistance of Marshals was required to keep the field open for the players. Promptly at one o'clock the umpire—Robert Austin of the Pacifics called the game, the College boys going to the field. Both nines looked the confidence they felt in the result and no one for a moment expected the disastrous defeat that followed. Bird for the Pioneers was the first to stand up with the ash and open the fun. The pitching was a little irregular and he went to first on balls. Raleigh followed with a safe infield hit and took first sending Bird to second. Gearin the next striker tipped a foul which Coleman took from the bat in nice style and got it around to pitcher and first base in time to cut off Raleigh who had started to run to second. Hart struck to right field sending Bird home and going to first. Buchtel sent the side to the field by a short fly to short stop and the first half of the first inning was over. Coleman for the College boys drew a blank on a foul to the catcher. Belt, Richards, Smith, Garrison and McCully followed with safe hits each one scoring. Gisner got to second but on attempting to run down to third was put out. Felt (J D) batted to short stop and retired on first base. Thus ended the first inning, the score standing five (5) for the College to one (1) for the Pioneers. The second inning was almost a repetition of the first except that the Pioneers made two to the College five. The third and fourth innings were closely contested, the score showing the College still ahead, however, by seven runs. The fifth inning was a disastrous one for the Pioneers, the College scoring twelve runs to their opponents three. From this out the College boys had everything their own way and kept increasing their score till at the ninth inning when it stood 52 to 22, the worst defeat the Pioneers have sustained this year.

And now a word of explanation as to the game. The score speaks for itself that poor playing was done on both sides. That the grounds were totally unfit for such a contest is conceded by all who were present. And yet those who came there expected and had a right to expect a better game. The playing of the College Club was good but we are satisfied they could have done much better.

The playing of the Pioneers was the worst we have ever seen them do and we hope they won't repeat such an exhibition of muffing and generally poor playing as their friends were compelled to witness to day. Their playing was just abominable. We say this for their own good in order that the next time they may do better for we know that the game to-day is not the best they've got. They are our own boys, and when they go away again we want to see them come home with the laurels or—they needn't come at all.

The game was a gentlemanly one throughout, the Pioneers taking their punishment with the best of good humor and the College boys bearing their honors with becoming modesty, and treating their opponents in a manner that won for them more laurels than mere victory could ever give.

An impression appears to have got abroad that this game decided the match which has been pending between the two clubs all summer. This is entirely wrong. The game played to-day has nothing to do with the College-Pioneer match. This game was for the State Fair prize, and nothing else, and the third game is yet to come off. We may look for it in a few days, at the longest—as soon as a ground can be decided on. The Pioneers are not scared and will try it again whenever the College boys say so.

The College club received the first prize—$100 and the Pioneers took the second $25. No other prizes were awarded. M

It is an invaluable remedy for all diseases of the mucous [illegible] such as [illegible], HACKING COUGH, NAUSEA DURING PREGNANCY, DYSPEPSIA, LEUCORRHOEA etc.

This preparation is the result of Dr Coleman's experiments with the medicinal properties of the tree in the U S Marine Hospital in San Francisco in 1871 and 1872, where he had unusual facilities for [illegible] the various methods of preparing the remedy and its uses. It can be relied upon as certain to give the [illegible] results, and hundreds of testimonials of its efficacy can be seen at his office 405 K[illegible] San Francisco.

CRUISE OF THE JUNIATA

From the N Y Herald's account of the cruise of the Juniata we extract the following

At noon on the 29th ultimo the Juniata weighed anchor and steamed out of the land locked harbor The farther we went north the nearer we felt we were to the Polaris though where she was or what had become of her gave rise to more theories and speculations than a bank clerk could count in a day The sea was smooth as glass and the Juniata made excellent headway As we passed the Omenak fiord the glittering icebergs came bounding forth in dozens but since we had become pretty familiar with their appearance they failed to impress us with any other idea than that they should have as wide a berth as possible And yet they were very grand and picturesque assuming every variety of shape from an old ruined castle to a marble dry goods store on Broadway Some were colossal in their proportions towering above the water more than 200 feet and nearly a mile in circumference

IN A REGULAR FIX

On the evening of the second day out a dense fog rendered it impossible to see a ship's length ahead and although we were close by Upernavik it was prudent to slow down Well indeed was it that such a precaution had been taken. The clicking mist increased in volume and almost right an iceberg ten yards off might have lain in wait for us with impunity At two o clock in the morning a startling cry was heard on deck "Stop her Hard aport!" and all hands turned out as if by magic Not that the words betoken anything unusual in this region of eternal ice, but the sharp ringing and stentorian tone in which they were delivered warned the company that danger was close aboard Commander Braine was on the bridge in a twinkling A steep precipice [illegible] up in the fog and in an instant the Juniata would have struck But the engine was reversed in the nick of time and the noble ship, promptly answering her helm just escaped destruction in 100 fathoms of water One minute later and a dreadful disaster was inevitable The pilot on the forecastle had done his duty in time. Delay was death, for the huge mountain rose perpendicularly from the sea and in case of accident, landing was impossible. But the interval was a terrible one between the time the pilot sung out and the happy moment when the vessel slewed off, barely saving her flying jibboom Soundings showed that there was sufficient water to sink a dozen fleets, and so the vessel groped her way dead slow, groping her way through worse than pitchy darkness, only to find, however, that she was completely surrounded by towering crags, and that the entrance to this well high fatal harbor was a mystery And so the anchor was let go. That it was a night of uneasiness for all I need scarcely state not that we were in any immediate danger but the locality was an enigma which the dissipation of the fog could possibly solve The ice pilot and the Esquimaux pilot, who said he knew every inch of the way, were bewildered, and so there was nothing for it but prudence Never did the faces of an anxious crew beam with such joyfulness as when the black cloud of vapor began to lift, and when at length the veil was drawn aside and the situation was fairly presented a feeling of surprise and gratitude prevailed In the impenetrable fog we had left the coast and come with a circle of snow-capped peaks in the vicinity of Sanderson's Hope How the Juniata steamed through the narrow entrance in safety could not be conceived, but the circumstance of the danger and escape will not readily be forgotten I overheard the boatswain make a remark that "A little of that goes a long way, and I believe it.

[illegible] OF THE FRENCH ASSEMBLY.

[illegible] the back is turned to the President of the Assembly, whom he [illegible] ignores. He speaks directly to the [illegible], addressing them as Messieurs, and [illegible] way of [illegible] straight to the hearers, in [illegible] people like the French, incites to [illegible]. It is a wise rule in the English and American legislatures for the speaker to [illegible] himself to the presiding officer only, and to allude to members in the third person, and without calling the individual name, thus [illegible] the chances of offensive personality. In the heat of angry discussion the [illegible] sometimes singles out his man and [illegible] to him face to face, in a manner not far [illegible] from that of a fishwoman of the [illegible]. In following this direct mode [illegible] he is led into extravagances which [illegible] of the parliamentary forms of England and [illegible] to a body of 750 [illegible] the people, he often unduly exalts himself with the idea that the ear of the nation is listening to his words through [illegible] 750 men, he no longer addresses an assembly of individuals, but gives rein to his [illegible] sentiments and harangues the country [illegible] with inflated periods and some rather wild talk, he speaks to France entire, and [illegible] France as he grows warmer, he communicates his thoughts to Europe, then to the civilized world, and possibly in the end to the universe. This tendency, however, is held in [illegible] to a certain degree by the fear of ridicule. If the expansive orator soars too high and too long, a bullet, in the shape of one of those sharp words in which Frenchmen are [illegible] adepts, brings him floundering down to earth again. These men of the Chamber are saved from many a serious denouement through a keen sense of the ridiculous In a word, the Gaul is born a blagueur, and when he is [illegible] he is [illegible], Thus, at a critical [illegible] so-called, when all are devoured with political ambition and [illegible] to resort to extreme measures in the way of [illegible], the following resolution [illegible] the Chamber

[illegible] I. That all Frenchmen are and are [illegible], Presidents of the Republic.

Article II. That [illegible], the chief executive officer of the nation is, and shall remain a private [illegible]

This is offered as a solution of the pending difficulty, and, for the time, it brings hilarity and [illegible] to the [illegible] spirits of [illegible] are then in order A man of the Left [illegible] that the President of the [illegible] tolerably well on the political tight-rope, considering that his balance pole is nearly all on one side. Others quickly follow, and general good humor is restored.—A Day in the French Assembly, by Albert Rhodes, Scribner's for October

There is no important change in our local finances the complaint of a scarcity of available funds to move the remainder of the wheat crop being the principal feature observable Although the disasters occurring in monetary circles during the past 14 weeks have in a great measure passed over and men are saying that there was really no cause for the panic the effect is yet felt upon the general business of the country and is likely to continue to exert an influence during the entire course of the fall trade But it is a state of excitement in commercial circles always keeps [illegible] circulation for a time which [illegible] otherwise find their way into the hands of legitimate [illegible] but which men look up and withhold through a sort of fear that the crisis has not fully passed or that a relapse may occur So it is now many men are backward about making investments because institutions and enterprises in which they have had so much confidence have so suddenly and unexpectedly gone by the board Time however we believe will dissipate this feeling and the country will come out of her present troubles surprised that the irreparable damage to her business interests have been no greater in the storm through which she has passed.

The Tonnage Question.

The delay which has occurred to several grain carrying ships known to be en route for this port as before noticed has left our market with very large stocks of wheat in hand now ready for shipment—every available foot of storage being filled This has been alleged as the cause of reduced prices in wheat for some days past but we incline to the belief that while the facts stated may have had their influence they have not been the only cause the decline in Liverpool having something to do with the similar movement here Our overloaded warehouses however are likely to be partially relieved at least during the next ten days as quite a number of vessels will probably be here in that time and it would seem that assurance of a full supply of tonnage during the winter months is now placed with in the very reasonable probabilities

The Register says $2 10 per cental has been offered in the interior of the State for wheat delivered in this city during the month of December We know not upon what authority the Register makes the statement, but if it be true, there are certainly some who deem the chances for tonnage good indeed

The California dealers concede that the tonnage supply for the movement of the crops produced in that State during the past season is reasonably assured According to the estimate of a leading exporter who handles ships as well as wheat, and who has therefore an equal interest in both the surplus of wheat for shipment during the crop year ending June 30th, 1874, is 350,000 tons of 2,000 lbs During the first three months of the year ending September 30th, the equivalent of 93 000 tons of wheat was shipped from San Francisco with enough tonnage in port at that place under engagement to take 48 000 tons of wheat most of which will be got off by the 1st November Thus there is actual provision for 141 000 tons of wheat leaving 209 000 tons to be provided for by the arrivals during the ensuing nine months The same authority gave the quantity of tonnage on the way to San Francisco on the 1st instant at 189 000 tons, with 12 000 tons of disengaged tonnage in port all of which will be available by the 1st March, if not before Allowing that only 80 per cent of this tonnage will be available for wheat, and we have enough tonnage capacity for 240 000 tons of wheat which more than absorbs the estimated surplus of the State after the fleet at present in port shall have been cleared It is therefore apparently useless for ship owners to hold out for extreme rates.

Tonnage in San Francisco has been in quiet demand since the 1st instant. This is in part due to the numerous arrivals of engaged tonnage in the past few weeks, giving the exporters all they can handle for the present, and to the difference in views between charterers and ship owners. In all, there were fifty six engagements reported at that port in September representing 54 000 tons of tonnage.

The ships Romeo Spirit of the Dawn and Theresa Behn are all now in the river and will load with wheat here immediately The Flechero cleared for this port from San Francisco, for the same purpose on the 6th inst. One or two other vessels are also fully due to carry wheat to Europe besides several coasters, which are we learn under charter for [illegible] of grain to San Francisco, when reshipment to England or the Continent will be made Hence we will likely have a very fair amount of activity in shipping circles for some time to come and under the impression that the tonnage question is settled in favor of the producer, a material advance in prices. Some however claim that the rise cannot reach the highest point attained a few weeks ago

NEW REMEDIES! NEW REMEDIES!

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary.

623 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhœa Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness Impotency etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible, life-destroying maladies see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late Send them immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case, without mercury or any injurious drugs It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures viz. Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these dreadful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the Post-office or through Wells, Fargo & Co a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn-to certificates dupe the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers etc The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates pretended patients letters, etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J F GIBBON 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice Box 1,957. REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1,957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the DAILY OREGONIAN jy6d&p
